

INDIAN INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT CALCUTTA

STRATEGIC SOURCING AND VENDOR MANAGEMENT

Programme Director: Prof. Peeyush Mehta

Programme Dates: November 16 - 19, 2022

Programme Venue: MDC, IIM Calcutta

INTRODUCTION

Strategic sourcing is the process of designing appropriate supplier relationships for managing the supply chains. Sourcing is increasingly becoming a highly competitive tool and attracting top management attention as a differentiation strategy for the firms. The focus on strategic sourcing has increased in the post-pandemic world where supply chain resilience is one of the most important objectives of the firms. With increasing complexity of the supply chains, firms are exploring several ways to remain cost effective while being highly responsive and agile.

Strategic sourcing and related functions play an important role in achieving these organisational goals. The programme on strategic sourcing and vendor management will focus on developing successful sourcing strategies for a wide variety of supply chain contexts. The programme will also highlight various techniques to enable robust and analytical sourcing decisions.

OBJECTIVES

- Integrate the sourcing strategy of the firm with its supply chain and business strategy
- To enable practising managers understand the growing strategic role of sourcing and procurement in building supply chain and organisational competitiveness.
- To introduce various analytical tools and techniques to design and implement effective sourcing strategies.
- Analyze the impact of global restructuring of supply chains to achieve resilience on the design of sourcing strategies in the post-pandemic world.

PEDAGOGY

The programme would use interactive case discussions, in-class assignments, business simulations. The programme would be facilitated by IIM Calcutta faculty. The participants will be introduced to several elements of developing cutting edge sourcing strategy and vendor management techniques. Participants will be provided with selected reading materials and global case studies.

WHO MAY ATTEND

This program is designed for middle to senior managers involved in sourcing, procurement, supply chain functions, vendor management in manufacturing, logistics, information technology and marketing functions. The program would be useful for managers involved in the tactical and long-term strategic growth of their firms in various supply chain activities.
